INTRODUCTION

Indonesia is a country that has a variety of cultural, ethnic and racial differences. This difference is also a characteristic of the Indonesian state and the assets of the Indonesian people, in accordance with the motto of Unity in Diversity. Most of the young generation has forgotten a lot of the culture that the nation has, such as not having a love for the motherland. Homeland love is an attitude that must be instilled early on. The love of the motherland or nationalism is a sense of pride, a sense of belonging, a sense of respect, a sense of respect and loyalty that is owned by each individual in the country where he lives as reflected in the behavior of defending his homeland, protecting and protecting his homeland, willing to sacrifice for the sake of the nation's interests and his country, loves the customs or culture of his country by preserving nature and the environment (Utami, Dian, 2015).

The young generation is one of several ways that can provide hope in the future because it will carry out policies in this country. Many young people who do not have a love for their homeland, thus leaving their own culture and tend to embrace negative external cultures such as brawl, drinking and free sex, more loving foreign products than domestic products. Therefore, it is necessary to instill a sense of love for the motherland, one of which is by conducting socialization activities to the public by playing an Indonesian film titled "Merah Putih Calling". This was done to avoid the swift flow of globalization, which was followed by technological and information developments that impacted on the diminishing love for the Unitary State of the Republic of Indonesia for the younger generation, the inclusion of foreign cultures without filtering caused the values of patriotism to fade and foreign culture to fade eventually became more dominant than the local culture in Indonesia, so that nationalism declined and the sense of unity among the Indonesian population diminished. (Aprilina, dkk., 2017).

Based on the problems that have been stated above, the team is interested in doing a dedication regarding "The Socialization of the Planting of Love of the Motherland in the Village of Jagoi, District of Jagoi Babang. Through these activities, at least it can open the minds of the next generation of young people so as not to fall into negative things. And with these activities it is also expected that the younger generation will love the motherland moreover, especially for communities in border areas such as Jagoi Village, Jagoi Babang District.

METHOD

The research method used in the implementation of this program begins with socialization. The socialization was carried out by giving a little knowledge about the importance of the love of the motherland for every Indonesian citizen. After that continued with watching activities with the film with the theme of the homeland entitled "Merah Putih Memanggil (Red and White Is Calling)". This activity was carried out on Thursday, January 17, 2019. Participants of the activity were children and residents of Jagoi village as well as several members of the TNI from the Yonif 511 / DY Task Force. The activity went smoothly demonstrated by the enthusiasm of the participants in participating in the socialization and screening of this film.

RESULTS AND DISCUSSIONS

1. The form of socialization of the love of the motherland and the growing sense of nationalism to residents in the border area, especially among adolescents and children in the village of Jagoi Babang, Bengkayang Regency. The effort to instill a sense of nationalism towards the Nation and Unitary State of the Republic of Indonesia is through watching together the film "Red and White Calling" through the film. The form of planting that is applied to citizens and adolescents to love domestic products (SNI) more, comply with regulations or administration when going abroad, does not commit violations by including illegal goods or even human trafficking.
2. The obstacle faced in the socialization process when in Jagoi Babang Village, Bengkayang Regency is the completeness of technology, such as LCD, projector screens and even electricity that sometimes goes out due to limitations. This proves that the area located on the NKRI border is still a step child in their own country. This should be used as motivation for the surrounding community to try to be better and not to make limitations as a deterrent to us to be more advanced, and change for the better.
3. Solutions that can be done to deal with one of them is by instilling a sense of love of the motherland, by growing curiosity through watching together the film "" Red and White Calling ". The solution to the problem will definitely be available if we try to find a way out of the problem. One solution offered is to instill a sense of nationalism and a sense of love for the motherland to residents in Jagoi Babang Village, Bengkayang Regency.

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

1. Conclusions from the inculcation of the value of nationalism, by inviting citizens from within the community's identity to always struggle, work hard, never give up, and believe in themselves to maintain the unity of the Republic of Indonesia. The obstacle faced during the socialization was that it was incomplete in terms of the equipment and support available in the service area so the team prepared the equipment needed.
2. The sense of nationalism that exists in the citizens in the village of Jagoi Babang already exists but needs to be maintained so that they love the regions and countries where they belong.
